ABOUT ME

I'm an IT enthusiast and currently in my senior year of studying Computer Science at the University of Business Technology in Kosovo.

My expertise spans a wide array of programming languages such as Java, C#, JavaScript, and Angular. My expertise extends to TypeScript, .NET, SQL, and MSSQL, enabling the creation of seamless web experiences. Proficient in Azure and Git, I leverage these tools to develop efficient, cloud-powered applications. My aptitude for optimizing database performance ensures streamlined functionality. With an active presence on Stack Overflow, I contribute technical support and insights to the community. Beyond coding, I prioritize collaborative teamwork and effective communication. I take pride in crafting well-structured code that transforms projects into harmonious digital achievements. Fluent in both English and Albanian.

If you are in search of a dedicated and hardworking developer, I am enthusiastic about the opportunity to collaborate with you.
